Q.1 What was your path towards becoming a librarian?

After completing my graduation in Commerce i.e. B.Com, I pursued a degree in Bachelor of Library science (B.Lisc). Thereafter I completed my Masters in Library Science (M.Lisc) from the Madurai Kamraj University Distance Learning programme.

Q.2 How do you view the importance of the role that a library plays in a child's life?

A library is a platform that helps in shaping a child's future by introducing them to various genres of books, this makes it likely that there will be something that interests them. The more that children are interested in reading books, the more likely it is that they will learn and be well educated.

Q.3 What would your message be as a librarian to your young readers?

Dr. Seuss once wrote, "The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go." Diving into a good book opens up a whole world of knowledge. It is never too late to develop a reading habit. In the beginning, it is quite possible that you find yourself disinterested in reading. However, you will gradually start liking books. The library is a place where you can find a variety of books on different subjects and topics. Begin with small stories, or books that contain pictorial facts and information.

Think about your interests and you will definitely find many resources related to it.
